Report Smash Through Kharkov Lines

Report Japs Assembling Invasion Armada In Region Of Australia

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Behind the ominous lull in the southwest Pacific conflict, military and naval experts believe that one of the greatest battles of the war is shaping up today for control of the vital island approaches to Australia.

Still smarting under the defeat suffered in the recent Coral sea engagement, the Japanese are reported to be assembling a gigantic invasion armada for a supreme attempt to slash the United Nations supply line to Australia and isolate Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces.

Despite the note of alarm which has crept into advices from Australia recently pleading for additional supplies and reinforcements, sources in the nation's capital are hopeful that defending aerial and naval units will be able to check the anticipated onslaught.

This is the concensus of military and naval experts who have traced Japan's pattern of conquest from the Pearl Harbor attack to the Coral

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MOSCOW, May 21.—A new six-mile gain for the Red army driving on Kharkov was officially recorded today following capture of a new key point where enormous losses were inflicted on masses of Nazi reserves equipped with brand new tanks.

The fighting is now for the most part in the open, as all heavily fortified points have been taken or bypassed.

MOSCOW, May 21—Enormous losses were inflicted today on masses of Nazi reserves, equipped with brand new tanks, thrown into battle against the Red army in a futile attempt to slow down the Russian drive on Kharkov.

"In spite of enormous losses of man-power and equipment," the noon communique of the Red army said, "the Germans continued counter-attacks around Kharkov in an attempt to check our advance."

All of the counter-thrusts of the Germans failed, it was said.

Intense Fighting

The communique reported that intense fighting continued in the eastern part of the Kerch peninsula throughout the night.

German People Facing Worse Conditions Now

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 21.—The people of Germany, led to believe at the outset of the war that victory would be theirs in a matter of months, face the prospect of ever worsening conditions within their homeland, observers said today following analysis of an address by Reich Marshal Hermann Goering to an assemblage of workers.

There need be little speculation, on the hardships the German people have been forced to endure since Hitler plunged them into the world's greatest conflict, it was said, since the Nazis themselves are beginning to unfold the entire story bit by bit.

Hardest For Germany

Goering admitted that the present conflict is the hardest war Germany has had to fight. Then he pointed out that those at home had to pay a price as well as the men on the battle fields.

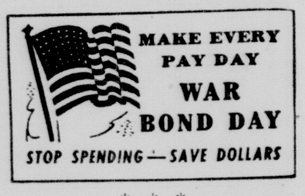

He admitted that the winter campaign in Russia had been "terrible".

Attacks Plans For Rationing Gas In Nation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Rep. Rankin (D) Miss., today attacked plans for a nation-wide gasoline rationing as the first rumblings of an approaching storm of protest from the oil producing southwest were heard in the capital.

"If they ration gas in Mississippi and Texas, they might as well ration corn in Iowa or coal in Pennsylvania," Rankin declared as officials worked toward national gas rationing.

"I don't see any reason for rationing gas down there where we have a super-abundance of it."

Rankin said he did not think the idea of rationing gas in the oil producing area to save rubber was being well-taken.

Transportation—the root of the east coast's shortage of petroleum—is also the prime factor in plans for

Police Officer Shot To Death

Civilian Who Was Near Him At Time Of Shooting Is Wounded

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., May 21.—Patrolman George Miller, 51, a veteran of the Clenenton police force, was killed and Albert Whitmore, 37, was wounded today by a series of shots fired from the darkness as they stood in front of a police car.

Whitmore, wounded in the arm and shoulder, reported that as he and the officer stood in the light cast by the car's front headlamps a mocking voice in the darkness challenged them:

"Now see if you can get me."

A second later the shots rang out and Miller, tugging at his service revolver fell, mortally wounded, Whitmore related.

Police held John Lynch, 40, of nearby Stratford, who was found hiding in the cellar of the home of Whitmore's sister-in-law, Bertha Mitchell, 38, in front of whose house the shooting occurred. Lynch, authorities said, was armed with both rifle and revolver, but submitted meekly when his hiding place was discovered.

Whitmore said Patrolman Miller came when he, Whitmore, called police after Lynch forced his way into the Mitchell home and started to make his way toward the woman's bedroom shortly after midnight.

According to Whitmore, Lynch was ejected from the house and the officer and Whitmore were talking about the matter when the shooting began.

Miller is survived by his wife, Gertrude, and two sons, George, Jr., 23, and Edward, 20.

Gas Masks Will Be Distributed In American Cities

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—Warning that Axis air attacks on American cities and centers of arms production are becoming "more than ever a probability," James M. Landis, civilian defense director, acknowledged today that gas masks would be distributed free by the government to the centers most open to attack.

Landis said the government had concluded arrangements for production of 2,500,000 gas masks per month starting at the end of May. He said the masks would be distributed free to the people and added that policemen, firemen and air raid wardens would receive the first issue.

Landis said in connection with Axis air raids that the enemy realized American war production must be stopped.

Collect Income Tax Each Month Is New Proposal

Treasury Department Has New Proposal For Individual Tax Gathering

NEW TAX RATES BEING COMPILED

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 21—The House Ways and Means Committee today began consideration of a treasury proposal calling for the payment of individual income taxes in monthly installments as the income is being earned.

Randolph Paul, treasury tax expert, submitted a proposal which would give the treasury discretionary power to collect from one to 10 per cent of a person's estimated tax bill each month. At present, income taxes are not collected until three months after the year in which an individual earned the income has ended.

New Method

The new method of collection is desired by the treasury as an anti-inflationary proposal, in that the public would no longer pay taxes for one year out of the next year's earnings, and purchasing power would therefore be cut down.

Previous proposals have been

No Negotiated Peace Will End War This Time

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 21.—Firm determination of the British government to reject any peace that will give Germany an opportunity to start another war was voiced in the House of Lords today.

Winding up a hard-hitting debate in which Lord Wedgwood said that the House itself contained many former appeasers "with murky pasts," Lord Cranborne, secretary of state for dominion affairs, set forth the government's attitude.

"We cannot look upon Nazi leaders (ther than as gangsters whose word cannot be trusted and whose hands are stained with unimaginable crimes," he said.

No Negotiated Peace

"A negotiated peace with them would be an unpardonable betrayal of our country and the world.

"We must do justice not only to Germany but to all who have suffered grieviously in this war.

"Conception of the Atlantic charter is entirely different from the policy adopted after the last war . . . there is absolute determination to prevent Germany or any other aggressive nation against achieving a position to inflict castastrophe upon the world."

Lord Cranborne gave "absolute assurance" on behalf of the government that there is no question of any departure from the policy of the charter "which remains the fundamental basis of the policy of his majesty's government and the United States and allies as a whole.

Defense Housing Plan Is Hampered

Building Plan Being 'Wrecked'

Defense Housing Program Being Affected By Recent Freezing Order

CONSIDER PLAN TO REMEDY SITUATION

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 21. — The government's multi-million dollar defense housing program, designed to provide homes for 800,000 persons, is virtually being "wrecked," it became known today, by a recent war production board order freezing sales and deliveries of construction lumber.

The order, issued a week ago, froze for a period of 60 days all sales and deliveries by large producers of lumber, except to meet the requirements of the army, navy and maritime commission.

Since that date, W.P.B. housing officials have received urgent telegrams from at least 90 cities throughout the nation attesting to the crushing blow which the order had dealt defense housing.

In 15 cities, defense housing construction was reported stopped; in 36 others the situation was described as critical and a shutdown was expected soon, while only 13 centers reported that they could continue work for an unspecified time.

The order was put through at the request of the army, officials said, which demanded all production for the next 60 days to meet requirements for its expanding program of military camp and cantonment construction.

J. S. Knowlson, chief of the WPB division of industry operations, who conferred with National Housing Administrator John Blandford Jr. on the critcal problem, said that remedial action would be taken as quickly as possible.

"The remaining soldiers refused to go any further. They were herded back into the carriages by their officers.

sea battle in which U. S. Pacific fleet units and bombers under MacArthur's command sunk or damaged at least 25 Nipponese warships and auxiliary vessels.

Working Aganist Time

These sources believe Japan is working against time, that her invasion schedule in the Australian area has been disrupted and that she may strike recklessly in a desperate effort to check further United Nations defensive and offensive preparations.

While the belief prevails that the Nipponese do not intend to launch a full-scale invasion of the Australian mainland except as a last resort, conservative military men assert that the enemy cannot afford to relax now.

Although Japan's losses in manpower, warships, auxiliary vessels and planes have been tremendous to date, American and Australian sources feel certain that the Nipponese are capable of dealing smashing blows in the southwest Pacific.

In line with tactics that proved successful in the Netherlands East Indies, Japan is believed to be gathering a much greater force than the one that met defeat in the Coral sea.

Dealt Stunning Blows

It must be recalled that United Nations forces dealt stunning blows to Japanese invasion armadas in Macassar Strait and the Java sea, but each time the enemy came back with reinforcements that eventually crushed resistance.

Since no large enemy ship concentrations have been cited by aerial patrols since the Coral sea battle, navy men assert the Japanese are assembling warship and other vessels at scattered bases from New Guinea to the Carolines and that these will converge quickly when the thrust begins.

The two mostly likely points of attack are considered to be Port Moresby, New Guinea, a short distance north of Australia, and the Free French island of New Caledonia, which guards the United Nations supply line to the United States.

Japanese control of these two islands would place Nipponese planes within easy bombing range of United Nations airfields in some sections of Australia and also would force American supply ships to make a lengthy detour around New Zealand.

"Never yet in Germany have machine-guns driven German workers to work."

Discussing the winter fighting in Russia, Goering said:

"A large white cover of death spread itself over the vast country.

"The Russians could march across frozen lakes and marshes and at night fall on us from the rear.

"There was a veritable stream of bad news. The Russians were at our rear. Guerillas blew up railways and cut our supply lines. The terrible cold almost froze our troops."

COLLECT INCOME TAX EACH MONTH IS NEW PROPOSAL

made for an "at the source tax" whereby the income levies would be taken out of a person's paycheck before he receives it.

The committee made public personal income tax rates which would start at 18 per cent of taxable incomes—after the deductions—and graduate to 87 per cent in incomes of $200,000 and over. The new normal tax would be six per cent and surtaxes would range from 12 to 81 per cent. At present, taxes begin at 10 per cent and graduate to 81 per cent on incomes of $5,000,000 or over.

New Rates

Under the new rates, assuming that no deductions other than allowed exemptions were taken—a single person earning $600 a year would pay a tax of $14, while a married couple, with no dependents and an income of $1,300 would pay $12. Last year, neither would have had to pay any tax.

The new rates, coupled with lower exemptions, are estimated to yield $2,750,000,000 additional revenues from personal income taxes. This contrasts with $4,300,000,000 which had been called for by the administration.

Only $1,550,000,000 of the personal income tax will be derived from the higher tax rates, it is estimated, the balance, according to tax experts, will be derived from lowering exemptions for single persons from $750 to $500 and married couples from $1,500 to $1,200.

Thus far, including higher corporation tax rates, the committee has acted to raise $5,250,000,00 in war taxes, as against $8,700,000,000 which has been requested by the treasury.

Still to be worked out in committee are excise tax rates, and other minor revenue raising matters.

ENORMOUS LOSSES BY NAZI RESERVES MOSCOW REPORTS

east of Kharkov, the armies of Marshal Semyon Timoshenko blasted German mechanized forces in front of the Ukraine capital with strong units of flame-throwers and anti-tank guns.

The Soviet troops were said to have smashed ahead 40 miles thru the German defenses before the city where fierce tank battles were raging in the heart of the Nazi lines.

In some sectors, it was said, the Nazi resistance had been completely worn down and fighting was developing into hand to hand engagements.

Beyond Nazi Defenses

Along the entire front the general character of the fighting has changed. Soviet troops have now advanced well beyond the smashed German defense lines and the hostilities now have proceeded from the initial stage of battering fortifications to combat in open fields and unprotected populated points.

At a result of huge mechanized losses, the Germans have now ceased their massed tank charges and counter-attacks, and these are now being carried out by infantry units of varying strength. German war planes are in action only on one sector of the front where tanks also are still operating and the outcome is not yet clear.

Several enemy units are hanging on to strongly fortified junctions but are completely surrounded and no longer have any hope either of breaking out or receiving reinforcements.

Tremendous Losses

Enemy losses were announced by the red army high command as tremendous. In one sector alone surprise methods employed by the Russians resulted in destruction of 50 Nazi planes, 130 tanks and 120 trucks.

Stormovik bombers, equipped with armor-piercing cannon, anti-tank guns and fuel bottles which burst into flame when hurled at the enemy were taking an increasingly heavy toll of the German mechanized forces.

While the Russians drew steadily nearer to Kharkov military observers said it was becoming increasingly evident that the Germans are using the maximum strength available in futile attempts to stem the Soviet onslaught. Only the arrival of large numbers of Nazi reinforcements, it was said, could now slow up the red army advance.

The Germans, according to the official Soviet newspaper Izvestia, are hurling in men and machines regardless of the cost, infantry is being sent in behind "solid walls" of tanks, it was said.

The Russians reportedly permit the enemy tanks to approach within 300 yards of their positions and then unleash the most destructive point blank artillery fire yet employed.

Huge Tanks Battle

(In London the Daily Express commented that the tank battles are being fought on such a scale that it will be impossible for them to continue much longer.

("At the present rate of destruction," the newspaper said, "the tank part of the battle may be broken off indecisively.")

Timoshenko's attacks north of Taganrog, strategic sea of Azov port in the southern Ukraine, appeared to be growing in force.

At the same time heavy fighting continued on the Kerch peninsula and the Communist newspaper Pravda announced that "greater" battles were about to begin in the Kerch area ocer which the Germans claim to have gained control.

(The German radio announced that heavy Russian attacks were taking place near Taganrog. It also was admitted that the Soviets still are fighting near the port of Kerch in eastern Crimea and that a large number of Russians are holding out in the Yenikale fortress.)

Fierce battles continued in progress on the Leningrad front far to the north where the Germans were said to be pouring in reserves to meet the tank, artillery and airplane offensive begun in that sector by the Russians.

The Soviet northern fleet meanwhile was credited with sinking five large German transports during the past few days.

A warning was issued to Moscow residents by Vladimire Pronin, president of the Moscow Soviet, that they prepare for a possible gas attack at any moment.

extending gasoline rationing thruout the nation. The country's stock of rubber in automobile tires must be preserved by restricted driving now to insure transportation for the future.

Responsible officials are frankly alarmed, however, at the serious economic dislocation which faces the petroleum industry through national curtailment of gasoline consumption. Loss of the eastern market already has brought the southwest up against over production problems.

The prospect of further rationing threatens to shut down countless oil wells, however, and cause serious repercussions in the midwest and southwest refining centers. Oil Coordinator Ickes concedes that there is no shortage of gasoline and oil outside of the east, but admits that national rationing may be needed for tire conservation.

JIMMIE DOOLITTLE'S TOKIO TRAIL

WHEN the ribbon of the Congressional Medal of Honor dropped around his neck Tuesday in the President's office in the White House the country knew at last that is was Jimmie Doolittle—Brigadier General now—who led that daring raid across Japan on April 18.

Some, especially air men, will say, "Why, of course—it would be Doolittle," thinking of his brains and skill and nerve as a flier since the early 1920s. Assuredly all those dawn-to-dusk flights and dangerous stunts and tests of that era were not wasted. They contributed vastly to the science of aviation; more, from our most important standpoint now, they gave us Jimmie Doolittle and many more like him.

With him as leader there were 79 others, officers and non-commissioned officers, who swept along with him in that fleet of bombers that struck at Tokio, Nagoya, Kobe and Yokohama in the noon daylight of the historic day.

As 130,000,000 Americans hail these honors, there is equal satisfaction over General Doolittle's report. He's back, as Mr. Roosevelt humorously insists, from that mythical base in Shangrila. And he shows, what we felt before, that the onslaught was no glittering stunt, but that those bombers struck and struck and got results against naval installations, aircraft factories and other worthwhile military objectives, dropping their bombs from the dangerous but effective height of 1500 feet.

Doolittle's story leaves to the imagination the tremendous perils our fliers faced from the raid's beginning to its end. But these 80 Americans heroically blazed a trail over which we must strike and strike again. We have the men to do it. And the planes are rolling off the assembly lines of America faster and faster, Hirohito!

MONEY IN CIRCULATION

The United States today is using more money than ever before in its history. As the amount of currency in circulation mounted last year one of the usual explanations offered was hoarding. Financial writers now are not so certain that hoarding is the answer. Some are disposed to ascribe part of it to the rapid expansion of war industries with a marked growth in the nation's payrolls and a cutdown in unemployment.

Money in circulation has now reached $11,850,000, a net rise since one year ago of $2,700,000,000. In the first week of May the sum outstanding increased by $122,000,000. In the corresponding week of 1941 the increase was $80,000,000.

Incidentally, the former heavy shift of United States currency to Cuba seems to be easing. In April this export amounted to only a little more than $1,000,000. It was $6,000,000 in March.

The import of currency is now about equal to the export. The bulk of the currency sent in now is coming from Argentina.

COLLEGE PROBLEMS

Among the institutions facing financial worries as a result of the war are colleges and universities. In the last war many men were kept in colleges through the ROTC, the SATC and other government-sponsored groups. That is not part of the armed force training program this time.

As a result enrollments have dropped 10 per cent from 1940 and a sharper decline is expected next fall. Since students are the chief source of income and expenses are largely fixed, many institutions of learning are hard put.

Colleges are striving mightily to meet the problem. Four-year courses have been condensed into three years, in instances to two, due to around-the-calendar studies. There are marked curricular changes in many schools. Courses have been added in mathematics, astronomy, navigation, cartography, radio, electronics, meteorology, military economics, code analysis and even in Russian and Japanese languages.

Department his hardest is the law, the decline having been 25 per cent since 1940. Entrance requirements have been relaxed and the attendance of women students is encouraged. Women are also welcomed to medical schools, and after the war many of the white collar professions may have a much more pronounced feminine makeup.

BOMBERS AND BOMBS

Henry Ford's new Willow Run plant is now turning out bombers. The mere announcement of this fact should rest like a load of lead upon the hard hearts off Hitler and Hirohito. Mussolini has lapsed into a state in which current events have no further interest to him.

Mr. Ford does not do things in a small way. It was he, more than any other person, who caused the highways and the byways, the city streets and country lanes, to burgeon with flivvers and jalopies. Mr. Ford is not interested in producing and article—automobile, truck, tank or plane—by the dozens, the scores or even the hundreds. Mass production to him has only one meaning—countless thousands. His factories have turned out more than 30,000,000 automobiles.

And so the news that the Willow Run plant is in operation is heartening to the people of the United Nations and carries ominous portents for the Axis powers. Mr. Ford's plans call for the production of a bomber every hour. This schedule gives new significance to the accepted theory that time runs against the Axis.

As the big clock of Berchtesgaden ticks away the fleeting hours, the Fuehrer might take pencil in hand and figure for his own enlightenment what such production means when translated into terms of bombers and bombs.

Hints On Etiquette

Don't be too patient with an insolent or careless waiter, but report him to the management of any first-class restaurant. On the other hand, if your waiter is careful and solicitous, be sure to tip him in appreciation of his service. Ten per cent of the total bill is the accepted tip for this service.

Words Of Wisdom

Of all injustice, that is the greatest which goes under the name of law; and of all sort of tyranny the forcing of the letter of the law against the equity, is the most insupportable.—L'Estrange.

Most people favor the $25,000 income limit. That is, most people make less than $25,000.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDREN HARMED BY TEASING

Bill is twelve. He has curly red hair. Other children at school tease him about his hair. The chances are that some neighbor, or aunt, or other relative, at some time dropped a remark which made the boy think curly red hair was not the thing for boys to have. Some member of the family may, indeed, have teased the owner of the ruddy curls.

Many a child is made to suffer on account of some physical trait, particularly the adolescent child. He may have freckles, be very fat or very skinny, very tall or very short. He may have a scar on his face caused by an injury, or it may be a birthmark. No matter what the physical trait in which he is different from the average child, he has been reminded of being different. The home folk may have been the first offenders. Perhaps they nicknamed him "Half-pint" or "Skinny" or "Fat," constantly reminding him of the way he differed from other children, constantly associating in his mind the ridicule of his friends.

Nicknames

Children may get nicknames which they at first dislike, which come to them more or less by accident of some experience or remark. Such nicknames are usually less annoying to children than those which describe some unusual physical trait.

As a rule we can do much to help our children to accept these new names in good fun and, indeed, to welcome them as signs of being a good fellow, of standing in well with the group. You and I know persons who capitalize on a nickname or irregular physical trait. They accept it as a mark of individuality. Their friends, therefore, do also.

Nicknames or no nicknames, we have difficulty in managing ourselves, our adult relatives, neighbors and friends. They will say stupid things right before our children: "Too bad Rebecca has so many freckles." "Jim's so tall and awkward." "Isn't Phil a little shrimp!" Remarks like these by grown-ups, who otherwise may be sensible, do all sorts of damage.

Let us do all we can to keep our children from thinking about the unwelcome traits which they cannot change. Once they become over-sensitive about matters of this sort, let us do our best to help them rise above these real or fancied handicaps, even to capitalize on them.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Would you advise a girl in college, or having finished college, to enter nurse's training?

A. Yes; if she has good health and wishes to enter a rich field of service. Her college education won't be lost by any means. She'll have more to give to nursing and more to get from it. If the war were to end tomorrow thousands of nurses will be needed in the armed services of the United States for many more years, and in various parts of the world. Besides, a nurse's training is excellent for motherhood.

Q. My son soon of draft age has lost interest in school. "What's the use?" he says.

A. I hope you and his teachers can lead him to see that the most patriotic service is to work hard, at the job at hand. No good loyal American can afford to be a slacker in any place. Besides, diligence on the job now helps guarantee future usefulness in the service and success thereafter.

Dear Adolf—Look Out!

Those boys we have landed in Ireland didn't come to kiss the Blarney stone.

They'll be pitching soon and it won't be Shamrocks.

You control your press Adolf—Tell 'em how to write it.

Tell 'em to write "We'll win despite the Americans."

But don't try to make 'em believe it.

They know, Adolf. They saw it all happen before.

You promised them something different and you gave them the same old dish—defeat baked in humble pie.

Get Ready Adolf—They're coming again. Those Yanks are coming again.

Just like before Adolf. You were a Corporal then. You said "if only I was the head man things would be different."

And now you're the head man and it's no different.

Sun sets tonight 8:14. Sun rises tomorrow 5:39.

All the gassing about tires is bound to tire a lot of people.

NOT QUITE SATISFIED

A pompous woman in the rear seat of a big car reminded Office Grouch of this story:

A colored woman who suddenly acquired wealth, bought a big car and hired a driver to take her on a ride through the neighborhood where she had lived. After the ride she declared she had enjoyed it.

"The only trouble," she added, "was that Ah couldn't sit on mah own porch and watch mahself ride by."

The North Hill gent who calls his 250-pound wife "Sugar" says he isn't for sugar rationing—he has sugar enough.

People who work hard and need a vacation should have it, but the whoopee kind can be rationed.

Typical war talk: A neighbor tells you the things you have already read in the paper; then you tell him the things he has read.

An East Side pap asked his small son what 60 meant on his grade card. "Do you suppose it's the temperature of the school room?" asked the son.

Hiding gasoline away in attics or cellars is a dangerous thing. It's better to do without it sometimes.

"'Course I can't," answered little Howard.

After so much scrap has been gathered up there is still a lot of it lying around over the country.

FATHERS PAY AND PAY

They tell about an indignant woman who raved about the scant notice given in the newspaper about the marriage of the daughter of a friend. "Why, it was terrible," she ranted to the bride's mother. "There was just that little tiny account of the wedding printed. It's a shame."

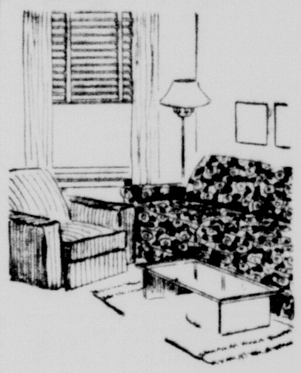

The bride's father aroused himself long enough to say, "Well, don't worry—the big and main account was with me."

RE-COVERING FURNITURE

"The sofa and one of the upholstered chairs in my living room are somewhat shabby—both as to upholstery and wooden frames. At present, I cannot invest in new furniture and I wonder if substantially made slipcovers fitted by an upholsterer would be in good taste for winter wear as well as summer."—MRS. S.

Answer: Many people whose furniture is showing wear and tear prefer to have it dressed all year 'round in slipcovers that can be easily removed and cleaned rather than go to the trouble and expense of having it reupholstered.

This should never be done to furniture frames; nor should any kind of furniture in a formal drawing room be thus covered, except in summer.

If you can afford to do so, I should advise you to have the furniture reupholstered, as this will give your room a more "permanent" look.

Question: Please tell me the procedure of a double ring-wedding ceremony.—M. E.

Answer: The bride must buy her bridegrooms' wedding ring, and he must buy hers. The maid-of-honor may carry the bridegroom's ring or the bride may carry it herself. In the latter event, she may wear it on her wedding-ring finger over her glove, or on her little finger. Thus she will be sure to have it when the time comes for making use of it.

When you make your wedding arrangements with the clergyman, be sure to tell him that yours will be a double-ring ceremony, that he may let you know when, during the ceremony, you should place the groom's ring on the third finger of his left hand. This is usually done before the bride has received her ring.

Question: I am a widow about to remarry. Please tell me how my announcements should be worded. Both of my parents are living.—Rita.

Answer: They should be worded as were your first announcements—in your parents' name, thus:

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes have the honour to announce the marriage of their daughter Rita Barnes Smith, etc. etc.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed 3-cent stamped envelope.

COLONEL'S ORDERS

A Welsh regiment choir was singing outside the officers' mess after dinner.

The colonel called the unmusical sergeant-major.

"Look here," he said, "go and tell the choir to sing 'Sweet and Low.'"

The sergeant-major went out and bawled to the leader: "If you blokes can't make less noise the colonel says you've got to clear off."

How about your victory garden? Now is the time to get busy.

Make it your business to show that you are a real American every day!

And, again, may we arise to ask as to the whereabouts of another old fashioned boy? He is or was the chap who thought it was smart to place a twisted pin in a chair or seat for some unsuspecting person to sit down on?

We once knew a boy who put a tack in his teacher's chair, and after the smoke of battle had cleared away the boy had some very red and sore spots that were not caused by a tack.

People don't need so many pockets now.

They tell of a local man who practiced his sales talk learned at the store so effectively on his wife he had to buy her a vacuum cleaner.

Susie Simper was attending a dance and stepped out on the balcony with a handsome young soldier.

"Soldier, if you try to kiss me, I'll scream," she warned.

The music roared out from the dance floor.

"If you scream no one will hear you," remarked the soldier.

"Then what are you waiting for?" demanded Susie.

A local bird said "I have a state tag on both ends of my car, a federal stamp on the windshield and a mortgage on the whole thing."

Browder Can Thank Hitler For Release

Offense By Nazi's On Russia Made Change

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Earl Browder, whose conviction on a federal charge landed him in the Atlanta penitentiary 14 months ago, unquestionably was tried, found guilty and sentenced strictly according to Hoyle, as a tecnnical proposition.

Desiring to take a couple of trips abroad, back in the days when it was perfectly terrible to be a Communist, and having reasons, best known to himself, for preferring not to travel under his own name, he obtained his passports by means of certain rather inaccurate statements, made by him to the state department, in submitting his application.

That he committed a punishable offense in misinforming the department in this connection scarcely can be disputed. However, if he'd been a mere ordinary individual, it's altogether unlikely that the matter ever would have attracted the slightest attention subsequently. But Earl wasn't ordinary. He was a very prominent American Communist, his cult's recognized leader in the United States. He ran three times for president on its ticket.

Times Were Different

Well, as previously remarked, it was downright awful to be a Communist in that era. Joe Stalin was regarded as a world peril, not only on his own account, but also because his government was hooked up by treaty, with Herr Hitler's.

Then, as now, Representative Martin Dies' congressional committee on investigation of un-American activities in our midst, was feverishly busy. Martin was more anti-Communistic than any other

THEY ARE NOT PUPPETS

The President's appointees to the Supreme Court of the United States now practically control the Decisions of that Court. Naturally, it was supposed that every question remotely connected with any of the policies o fthe Administration would be decided by the Court in favor of the policies. But it must be remembered that when a citizen of this nation becomes a member of the Supreme Court of the United States there is no restraining hand upon him. He will in most cases decide the question, not according to any preconceived ideas of the President, but according to his own ideas of the right and wrong of that question.

Justice Felix Frankfurter is considered as one whom the President particularly wished to appoint as a member of the Supreme Court, but Felix Frankfurter has made several decisions distasteful to those who believed he would bend the law to their way of thinging.

Now comes the decision of a question revolving around a new home constructed down in Texas by a restaurant proprietor. The carpenters and painters employed by the contractor did not belong to a Union and the carpenters' and painters' Unions established a picket line in front of the restraurant.

Since no construction work was performed at the restaurant, the Texas court ruled that the picketers were exceeding their bounds and ordered the picketting to cease. The Unions appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, where Justice Frankfurter has upheld the State of Texas. Said the Justice:

"It is true that by peaceful picketing, working men communicate their grievances, but as a means of communicating the facts of a labor dispute, peaceful picketing may be a phase of the constitutional right of free utterance.

"But recognition of peaceful picketing as an exercise of free speech does not imply that the States must be without power to confine the sphere of communication to that directly related to the dispute.

"The rights of employers and employees to conduct their economic affairs and to compete with others for a share in the products of industry are subject to modification or qualification in the interests of the societies in which they exist."

Three Justices dissented from Frankfurter's opinion. The case holds that a State has the right to limit picketing to establishments which are industrially connected with the dispute, provided that State authorities decide to do so.

The Great Game Of Politics

Indefensible Abuse

WASHINGTON, May 21.

IT HAS been charged that this Administration, while calling upon the people for great sacrifices, is unwilling to make any sacrifices itself. It has been charged that its insistence upon promoting New Deal social aims and playing New Deal politics (as in the recent New Jersey judgeship) interferes with a full concentration on the war effort.

THESE ARE ugly charges which, despite evidence, no one wants to stress. In a period such as this, nonpartisan support of the President is, of course, an obligation and a united nation is essential. But a distinction must be made between support of his Administration in every war measure and support of the indefensible domestic things which, using the war as a screen, are being done at home. Concurrence in these is neither patriotic nor wise; quite the reverse.

AN EXAMPLE was given a few days ago in the attack upon House and Senate members who are leading the fight to reduce non-war Government expenditures. It first came with some degree of restraint from politicians close to the White House. Immediately the attack was expanded and elaborated in various radical organs which reflect the New Deal view. These cast restraint aside and Senators Carter Glass, Walter George, Kenneth McKellar and Harry Byrd, along with Representatives Woodrum, Taber, Doughton and others were denounced as "wreckers" and "vandals", described as "vicious, mean and selfish men" who are, it is inferred, trying to lose the war.

THE MEN against whom these allegations are made can afford to ignore them—and do. Except that they come from persons and papers regarded as Administration spokesmen, they would not be worth noticing at all. But the White House link provides a sound reason for considering this attack part of Administration political policy, fitting in with the unrebuked speech of Attorney General Biddle's, in which he insisted that it was necessary to fight on the New Deal political front at home as well as against our enemies abroad. Incidentally, some of those who attended the

OTTAWA — President Roosevelt in a message to the United Nations air training conference: "Canada has increasingly become the airdrome of democracy, sending from her training fields thousands upon thousands of her own men and men of the other United Nations to fight in the cause of liberty over all the battlefields of this planetary war."

Scientists deserve all the credit in the world, and we certainly can't blame it on them that, because of their work this has become the most brutal of all wars ever fought.

But these mysterious men in their laboratories do seem to be a bit too complicated for everyday understanding.

For instance, a Florida scientist tells us how to make rationed sugar stretch further.

Mix one pound of sugar and seven ounces of water. Add one-fourth teaspoon of tartaric acid. Cover the mixture and boil gently for thirty minutes. Allow to cool, and you have invert sugar syrup, each cup of which is equal in sweetening to a cup of sugar.

For use in baking and ice cream it must be taken into consideration that the syrup is about one-third water. Then you have to begin to use higher mathematics.

Why not throw the recipe away and just get along with the sugar the government allows?

Food Surplus Stamp Plan Will Shortly Go Into Effect Here

Culminating months of work, it was officially announced today that the federal food surplus stamp plan will be started in Lawrence county in the near future.

Last January the Lawrence county commissioners appropriated $12,000 for a revolving fund to back up the food stamps but priorities and details held up immediate inception of the plan. However, U. S. Agricultural Marketing Administrator W. J. Gleason and W. B. Howe, chairman of the Lawrence county food stamp committee, have completed the necessary arrangements and the plan will be in effect shortly.

The stamp program will be started simultaneously in Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties. The three-county committee is headed by General Chairman James Kiester of Butler assisted by Vice-chairmen A. F. Korman of Beaver county and W. B. Howe of New Castle.

Handle Merchants' Part

This committee is to handle the retail and wholesale food merchants' part of the program, while the certification of eligibles will be in the hands of the counties' boards of assistance.

The surplus food stamp plan is designed to increase the food budget of relief families by one half, and to do so by making available for their consumption the surplus of local farmers. The families eligible to use food stamps in this area include all those who cook their meals at home and receive one or more of the following: general assistance, mother's aid, old age assistance and aid to the blind.

In general the plan works like this: an eligible family buys orange stamps with the money allotted to them for food and with every dollar's worth of orange stamps they buy, a half-dollar's worth of blue stamps is given to them. These stamps are used like money and can be used to buy foods from any grocer who handles the stamps. These stamps can not be used for beer, wines, liquors, soft drinks or household goods.

The whole plan means that the purchasing power of the needy is increased 50 per cent. For instance, suppose a person spends six dollars a month for food—whereas formerly he only received six dollars worth of food, under the new plan he will get nine dollars worth.

Benefits Cited

The surplus food program with its stamp plan benefits three groups. It helps those on relief by enabling them to get 50 per cent more food for the same amount of money. It helps the farmers by getting rid of their surplus at a fair price. And it helps the grocers and wholesalers by giving them 50 per cent more trade from certain families. It is estimated that there are approximately 4,500 eligible persons in Lawrence county who can use food stamps. Increasing their food purchasing power by one half will give local food dealers thousands of dollars in new trade each month.

The retail and wholesale food dealers' portion of the food stamp plan in Lawrence county is being worked out by a committee headed by W. B. Howe. The vice-chairman is Clem Parker and the members are: Joe Bordonaro, G. S. Dalton, T. J. Hickey, W. A. Simler, M. B. Hogue, John Brinton, Joseph Smith, Ben Hogan, Charles V. Dean and J. W. Rupert.

It is emphasized that the food dealers in Lawrence county must be certified to handle food stamps. Therefore, there will be meetings of all food dealers June 2 and 3 at the court house at 8 o'clock when the plan will be explained, and when they can signify their desire to handle the stamps. A similar meeting for retailers in and around Ellwood City will be held in the municipal building on June 4 at 8 p. m. It is of the utmost importance that food retailers attend these meetings if they hope to participate in the benefits of the food stamp plan.

small dinner at which Mr. Biddle extolled New Deal politics are most active in the present effort to disparage the economy leaders.

THE SITUATION has reached a stage where it seems worth while to state again the facts. The first fact is that, excepting the politicians and the jobholders, everybody agrees the national safety demands that non-war expenses be "cut to the bone". Mr. Roosevelt urged this seventeen months ago. All the higher fiscal officials echoed his recommendation. Congress, believing he meant it, last year created a Joint Economy Committee, which, after months of work, made a report recommending cuts totaling over a billion dollars. Secretary Morgenthau signed this report. The New Deal spokesmen say he did so "with reservations", but the only reservation he made at the time was that the committee had not gone far enough. Instead of one billion, he thought two billion should be cut out.

CONSIDERING THE President's own recommendations, the Morgenthau approval and the vital need for drastic reduction, there was every reason to expect the committee's report would receive Administration support. It would seem that it had acted in accord with the President's desire, after consultation with the financial officers of his Administration. One, of course, expected opposition from the jobholders, whom it is proposed to separate from the pay roll, but after his clarion call for a "cut to the bone", one certainly had a right to expect co-operation from Mr. Roosevelt.

THERE HAS come from him nothing but hostility. And now his journalistic and political aides have begun personal abuse of the committee members. These men who have supported his foreign policy from the start, who have voted to give him every war power and all the money he asked and who are just as patriotic as Mr. Roosevelt and a lot more so than some who assail them are called "wreckers" and "vandals", "vicious men" who are trying to pull the props from under the country. Clearly there has begun a campaign within the Administration to knock out the committee's recommendation and personally smear its members.

THIS STATE of affairs is deeply depressing to those who believe failure to regain control of our Federal finances weakens the war effort and menaces national stability. That members of Congress, working along lines suggested by the President, himself, should now be assailed by the President's friends, may be baffling to those who do not know the facts. To those who do, however, the reasons are clear. Basic among them is the determination of the New Dealers not really to give up a single Governmental gadget, war or no war. Some of these may be curtailed, but others already have been greatly expanded. In face of this, the Economy Committee proposes complete abolition, for the duration, of NYA, CCC and the Farm Security administration. A vast sum of money would be saved, but Mr. Roosevelt opposes it, Mrs. Roosevelt opposes it and the while journalistic and political chorus is anguished at the suggestion.

THESE THREE agencies are especial favorites among the more ardent New Dealers and the proposal, even temporarily, to lop them off appears to them sabotage of the worst type. Their contention is that they are essential to the winning of the war, which, of course, is nonsense. The attack bodes ill for the econmy program. It is difficult enongh under any conditions to uproot intrenched agencies no matter how useless. To do so against White House opposition would be little short of miraculous. But it should be done and the men who are trying to do it deserve the greatest possible public support. Without, that, the cause is hopeless.

"WE CANNOT HAVE ALL WE WANT IF OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS ARE TO HAVE ALL THEY NEED!"

—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, April 27th, 1942

For example, you must give up some of the coffee you enjoy—but you'll do it gladly when you realize why you are making the sacrifice

THESE days, you are being called upon to "do without" for the sake of Victory. One of these sacrifices concerns your enjoyment of coffee. The War Production Board has placed restrictions on the distribution of all coffees. This means that now there is 25% less coffee to go around, than a year ago.

To meet this emergency, A&P asks that you share with your neighbor—that you buy only one package of coffee at a time. Some customers may wish to "buy as usual", but if they were permitted to, they would be depriving a friend or a neighbor of the equal right to enjoy coffee.

In the American way, you will accept the restriction willingly. And you can still enjoy coffee by conserving it right in your home, by avoiding waste in every way. Make only as much as you know you and your family will drink at a serving—and not one cup more. Perhaps you may even want to plan one meal without coffee each week. But whatever you do, be sure that every cup you brew is the best possible.

It's far better to have one cup of good coffee than two cups of poor coffee. Follow these simple rules for making good coffee—they're easy:

1. Buy coffee that is freshly roasted.
2. Buy coffee that is freshly ground and correctly ground for your coffeepot.
3. Be sure your coffeepot is absolutely clean.
4. Carefully measure both coffee and water—one heaping tablespoonful of coffee for each cup (½ pint) of water.
5. Serve immediately after brewing.

Follow these simple, practical rules. They'll help you make and enjoy perfect coffee every time. Don't waste coffee—give your full support to our government's conservation order. Enjoy coffee and share that pleasure with your neighbor.

one thing. Some folk thought that he concentrated on Communism a trifle neglectfully of Nazism and Fascism. Still, it generally was agreed that he might be right in rooting out the Communists 100 per cent first and letting the others wait until he could get around to 'em.

Naturally the initial step was to pin a case on Earl Browder, the boss Communist in the western hemisphere.

To say that his record was examined under a microscope's to express it mildly. I don't say that he didn't have coming what followed. All I do allege is that he was trailed less because somebody was trying to catch him than to catch him nefarious in SOMETHING.

Deliberate Malice?

It has a kind of a tinge of deliberate malice.

The justice department took up Earl's prosecution with Russia still pro-Nazi and Earl still, as an Axis sympathizer, pro-Axis.

He was soaked for four years—a pretty stiff sentence.

All this time, mind you, Earl was classed as of the Communistic-pro-Axis group.

But, while Earl was corked up at Atlanta, Herr Hitler hopped on Comrade Stalin. Joe Stalin, if he hadn't been hopped on, might now be as pro-Axis as you please. Adolf's attack on him is what converted him to solidarity with the United Nations.

The result is that Earl Browder gets his release from Atlanta in a hurry.

His attitude's all right, too.

He isn't resentful. "Unity," he says, is all he's after. It's pretty creditable following 14 months in the penitentiary.

War Man Power Commission Has New Draft Rules

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21 — The war man power commission announced today that a directive will be issued June 1, requiring local draft boards to consult with U. S. employment offices before classifying or reclassifying individuals skilled in critical war jobs.

A commission spokesman said that this did not mean automatic deferment of skilled war workers, but would bring about closer cooperation between selective service and the commission in the use of the nation's vital supply of man power.

Commission chairman, Paul V. McNutt issued an eight point program for promoting "the fullest utilization of the man power of the country."

"Unless there is orderly recruitment of workers, it will be impossible to bring about the fullest utilization of the man power of this nation," McNutt said.

New Wilmington To Send Garbage Here

City To Receive Pay From Borough For Burning Garbage At Plant Here

When council met this morning in the city building it was announced that New Castle has decided to burn New Wilmington garbage in the New Castle plant in Harbor street. The first load may be sent here some time next week, the borough already having bought a refuse-collector of 6½ cubic yards capacity.

Public Health Director D. O. Davies told council that he had arrived at a decision that "one or two more loads won't affect the plant here." He said he would arrive at a cost and report Monday to council.

The borough solicitor, Thomas V. Mansell in a letter to council said the borough was willing to pay the cost of disposal.

There are openings available, not only for sea duty, but at shore stations. Enlistments will be in the naval reserve, with first, second or third class petty officer ratings, depending on ability.

Attend Funeral Of Nephew Killed In Crash Of Plane

Mr. And Mrs. P. H. Bridenbaugh Attend Services In Martinsburg Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Bridenbaugh and daughter Betty of Edison avenue have returned from Martinsburg, Pa., where they attended funeral services for the former's nephew, Ensign David Bridenbaugh Beck, aged 22 years, which took place Wednesday. The youth met his death early last week at Rosedal Field, San Diego, Calif., when a bomber which he was operating crashed in a dive.

Ensign Beck was born in China, where his parents were missionaries, and where he lived until the age of 16 years, when he came to the United States for his education. He graduated at State College high school and attended Frostburg Teachers college and Heidelberg college from whence he enlisted in the U. S. naval air forces.

A sad feature of the young man's death is the fact that his father, the Rev. Carl H. Beck, who returned to the Chinese mission field two years ago, was taken prisoner by the Japanese last October and no word has been heard from him since that time.

He is survived by his mother and two sisters, Eva and May Beck of Tiffin, O., who are students at Heidelberg college.

ANNUAL CONCERT

The Wampum High School Music Department under the direction of Betty M. Boyer rendered their annual chorus and band concert in the new auditorium on Monday eve.

The concert opened with three beautiful numbers by the girls chorus. This was followed by solos, trios, ensembles and duets. The solos were sung by Mary Louise Meilke and Polly Cavalier. The mixed chorus closed this part of the program with five familiar numbers beautifully interpreted and well received by a capacity audience.

After a short intermission, school letters and medals were presented the students for participation in music activities. Miss Wagner, the Dramatic teacher made the presentations.

The second half of the program was spectacular with the band in uniform. After three overtures by the band several band members displayed their skill as soloists. Frank Bennett, clarinet; Paul Bingham, baritone horn; DuWayne Goodwin, cornet; Travis Bingham, tuba; Pete Capalbo, saxaphone and Jean Shelatree, bell lyre.

The program ended by the band playing several popular marches for the junior and senior twirlers. The twirlers in their natty uniforms displayed much skill under the leadership of Dorothy Johnston, student director. This beautiful concert was climaxed with Elizabeth Aromatorio as the statue of liberty. Miss Aromatorio presented a beautiful picture in uniform with lighted torch standing in front of a huge "V" for victory while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner." Much credit is due Miss Boyer for the splendid programs rendered each year by the Music Department.

Council Opposes County Sales Plan

Sales Of City Properties For Tax Claims Arouses Council Session Today

When council met today in the city building, Solicitor Robert M. White and councilmen gave sharp disapproval of reported sales and proposed additional sales by the county of property not redeemed within a period of two years as prescribed by law. He urged a conference be held prior to the sales which almost divests liens.

Solicitor White reported he had conferred with public school district counsel, Charles H. Young, and the latter assertedly agreed with the city solicitor, but County Solicitor William McElwee opposed proposed conferences between the three bodies concerned and favored sales.

The city solicitor said that next week the county proposes to dispose of more than a score of such properties. He said sales in the past have occurred and charged that in one or two instances properties had been sold to persons "working out of those offices."

White declared he had inquired into some of the offers and pointed out that on one lot assessed at $350, a price of $45 had been offered. On another property against which $1110 was assessed an offer of $100 had been made.

White stated that some people favor the bid plan. The return from the sale is divided equally according to the amount of taxes owed the city, school district and county, it was explained.

It was further reported that when such an offer is accepted the amounts owed are "wiped out" and the only division made is of the sale return.

He said that there are paving liens against some properties, and he proposes unless a joint committee representing the three bodies concerned is determined upon to decide upon such sales, he will issue an execution of test the title held by the purchaser.

California Heiress Will Seek Divorce

In Nevada To File Action Against Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt Is Report

(International News Service)

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 21.—Mrs. Manuela Hudson Vanderbilt, prominent California heiress, established residence at a dude ranch near Las Vegas two weeks ago and was expected to begin divorce proceedings against Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, multi-millionaire sportsman, next month, it was learned today.

It will mark the second time that the attractive heiress has instituted a divorce action against Vanderbilt. She filed suit in New York last August and named two co-respondents. The suit later was withdrawn and it was believed that the couple had reached a property settlement agreement.

Vanderbilt, heir to a $20,000,000 fortune, has been the almost constant escort of Gloria Wood, known on the stage and screen as K. T. Stevens, daughter of Film Director Sam Wood. Hollywood gossip believed that when Vanderbilt gains his martial freedom his next trip to the altar will be with the actress.

Pennsylvania's Home Front

(By International News Service)

By FRANCIS J. BURKE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

The Office of Price Administration announces the result of a poll which blasts the myth that beet sugar isn't interchangeable with cane sugar.

O.P.A.'s Pennsylvania office queried five home economics experts following widespread objections to the W.P.B.'s order that part of the eastern seaboard's May sugar supply came from beet sources. It was found that there's no important chemical difference between properly refined beet and cane sugar and that in general household use, there's no differences in results.

Hunter's Manufacturing Company at Croydon has a unique plan for the conservation of tires, gasoline and cars of its employes. The firm has a large map of the territory in which the workers reside. For each person driving a car, there is a red tack with his shop number on it, and for those who do not have a car, there is a white tack and the shop number. The tacks are placed in the locality where the person lives, and it's easy for anyone to see which person to ride or to double up with.

An employe of the Parish Pressed Steel Company in Reading mailed in a timely suggestion to the firm's "suggestion box." Since we get paid time and a half for all work over 40 hours a week," he wrote, "I suggest instead of taking the time and a half pay in cash we take it in defense stamps."

State Motor Police Commissioner Lynn G. Adams emphasizes that volunteer police in the 900 defense units of Pennsylvania have powers of arrest only "during an air raid, blackout or other emergency."

Philadelphia started its municipal tin-collection drive on May the 18. Beginning that day, tin cans will be gathered within the city limits on regular collection days. Trucks will carry them to freight cars for delivery to a de-tinning plant at Sewaren, N. J. Uncle Sam hopes for ten tons of containers a week from the Quaker City.

Coatesville's "clean-up" for defense was a startling success—and as as a result there's enough material on its way to the steel mills for 20 light tanks. In the drive, a victory scrapyard was set up; brass bands toured the streets and vaudeville shows were supplied by station W.F.I.L. of Philadelphia. A piece of junk was the price of admission.

War materials under contract in the jurisdiction of the Philadelphia ordnance district are valued at $1,387,697,000. And shipments to the armed forces passed by inspectors during April were worth about $33,000,000.

Some forceful and pithy slogans are emerging from contests being conducted in Pennsylvania plants in connection with the war production drive. "Speed 'em for freedom," says Earl Myers, of the Curtiss Wright plant in Beaver. At the Hardinge Brothers plant in Elmira, N. Y., Reynolds Johnson stated "Hardinge hands harass Hitler and Hirohito."

We're going to have only 30 per cent, as many new phonograph records as formerly. For one reason, the O.P.A. explains, because the shellac in records is a prime war requisite.

Tin-collection areas have been set up in Pennsylvania only in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh thus far. Establishment of the necessary "de-tinning" factories is the problem that holds up a statewide spread of the drive. In Philadelphia, the Department of Public Works is using 22 new trucks to make collections on regular trash routes.

School children in Allentown are bringing tin cans to classes. When a carload—20 tons—is collected, it's shipped to the de-tinning plant at Sewaren, N. J. Proceeds from the sale go to the local parent-teachers association.

Pennsylvania is still leading the nation in formation of industrial labor-management committees designed to speed war production. The Keystone state now has 130 of the 700 groups operating in the United States.

"Speed Our Ships" is now the official slogan of the American Car and Foundry Company in Wilmington, Del. S.O.S. See?

The average family can save a pound of waste paper a day—almost enough to make a shell container for the U.S. armed forces. That's the estimate of a state council of defense spokesman.

Westinghouse Company has developed a glare barrage of high-powered spotlights to protect war plants against saboteurs. Under this system, the guards and buildings are kept in comparative darkness, while the areas through which saboteurs must pass are brilliantly lighted.

All lost bicycles recovered by police will be turned over to the Philadelphia Council of Defense under an order issued by Public Safety Director James H. Malone. The council can use the bikes to solve their messenger transportation problem. Hitherto, the recovered wheels were kept six months and then sold at public auction.

O.P.A. officials pointed out recently that bulk purchasers of gasoline, who supply their own cars from their own tanks, must collect ration unit stamps the same as commercial filling stations. Forms required for the replenishment of such gasoline supplies are now available at local ration boards.

Bad news for the imbiber: Gin will become scarcer and scarcer in the state liquor stores. It's the war.

Duff, Miss Frances Barr, Mrs. Marvin Hawthorne, Miss Anne Caldwell, Miss Mabel Stewart, Mrs. Norman Wimer, Mrs. Macklyn E. Lindstrom, Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. Elmer B. SORT SCRAP

In lieu of their regular weekly meeting, the local Kiwanians continued work on their defense program last Monday evening. After their dinner, the members of the club went to the storehouse where their collection of scrap metal, paper, and other materials is kept, and sorted out the material. Collection of scrap material, sponsored in New Wilmington by the Kiwanians, has been unusually successful throughout Lawrence County, and is a valuable aid in the all-out defense effort.

ROTARY MEETING

Speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the New Wilmington Rotary club was Nathan Frey, a member of the club, who gave a "classification" talk.

Frey's talk was devoted to statistics and interesting incidents connected with his employment from 1932 to 1936 on the large dam on the Ohio river between Beaver and Midland.

H. E. Burns, one of the local Rotarians who attended the fifth annual conference of the 175th district of Rotary International, held recently in Butler, gave a report on the Friday session of the conference.

Next week's Rotary meeting will take the shape of a Community Night, to which program each member is to bring another citizen of the community. Speaker will be Arthur P. Vincent, president of the Slippery Rock Rotary club, who will address the gathering on the topic, "Rotary and the World at War." Vincent spoke on this subject at the Butler meeting.

HEADS BROTHERHOOD

W. A. Reed was elected president of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood at a meeting held recently. He succeeds H. E. Burns.

Raymond Meek was named to take the place of George Brown as vice-president of the organization, and Joseph Eckles was re-elected secretary and treasurer. The first meeting under the new administration will take place on Thursday, June 4.

TO BE GRADUATED

Robert A. Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johns, 126 Waugh avenue, is one of more than sixteen hundred graduating seniors at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. Commencement exercises at the Ohio school are to be held in June.

While at Ohio State, Johns has majored in Political Administration. During his last quarter in school, he was selected as one of ten to do his undergraduate teaching at the Ohio State U. Progressive Experimental School. He has also been employed as an instructor in the Political Science Department at West High School, Columbus. He is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity, of which group he is retiring pledgemaster.

Upon graduation, Johns will enter the Naval Air Corps with the O.S.U. squadron, and will go to Iowa City, Iowa, for his basic training.

COMMENCEMENT

Principal Walt Whitman of the local high school has announced the names of the speakers for the school commencement and baccalaureate programs.

Louis E. Graham, representative in Congress from the 26th district, will speak at commencement, which has been set for June 1. Rev. Macklyn E. Lindstrom, pastor of the local Methodist church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon, on May 31.

The senior class night will be held on Friday, May 29, in the Community House.

The theme of the last regular meeting of Wilmington Grange was "Mother's Day."

Marian Thompson read a humorous article, "The Usual Way," portraying the regular routine and situations of the average family. Mrs. W. C. Hileman read a take-off on the modern system of raising children, and the Wendell Wilson family gave a portrayal of a typical American family.

A sale of plants was held at the meeting, with the proceeds being turned over to the Home Economics committee, which put on the program. It was also learned that shrubbery for landscaping the Grange property is not available now, and will not be until next fall.

Next meeting of the Grange will feature a Memorial Day program.

Temple Israel To Observe Shovuos

Feast Of Weeks Commence This Evening At Temple Israel Synagogue

Shovuos, or the Feast of Weeks, a Jewish Festival, which Jews will celebrate on May 22, is especially significant, in this day of doubt and confusion and commemorates the rededication of the Jewish people to their faith and their religious ideals.

This evening, services will commence at the Temple Israel synagogue, at 8 o'clock, with Rabbi Leo E. Turitz, preaching. Friday morning, prayer service will be conducted at 10 o'clock, and in the evening, the sermon, "Jewish Preaching," will be given at 8 o'clock. Sabbath morning prayer service will be held Saturday morning, May 23, at 11:30 o'clock. Temple Israel will have confirmation exercises on Sunday evening, 7:30 o'clock.

Shovuos is called the "Feast of Weeks," because it falls seven weeks (a week of weeks) after Passover which marked the beginning of the harvest season. Reform Jews celebrate the festival for one day; Conservative and Orthodox Jews celebrate it for two days.

Originally as a festival marking the end of the grain harvest, it developed after the fall of the Temple in the year 70 of the Common Era. The Festival falls on the sixth day of the month of Sivon, which approximates late May and early June.

Erie Lieutenant Cables He's "O. K."

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 21.—A six-word cablegram today, all the way from Australia, brought joy to the hearts of relatives of Lieut. Commander Denys Knoll, 35, listed by the U. S. Navy as "missing." The telegram read: "Safe and well. Do not worry."

But there was no joy, just a heartfelt hope, in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. George Ambro and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rouse, of nearby Wattsburg. Their sons, Eugene A. Ambro, 23, pharmacist mate 2nd class, and Pvt. Paul V. Rouse, 23, were both reported missing in the Manila bay area and believed to be prisoners of the Japanese.

Are You LETTING IT RUN THROUGH YOUR FINGERS?

Earning more money these days? Good! But in times like these it's your patriotic duty to make your dollars count. Today, with Economy our victory slogan . . . with our country needing all the financial help we can give it . . . wasteful spending, extravagant spending, is out.

Bear that in mind when you go out to buy new clothes — whether for yourself or for your family. Here at Goldman's you couldn't be extravagant if you wanted to be. Even before the Government went in for "price ceilings" Goldman's policy was to keep prices down! Today this famous policy of low prices prevails with continuing vigor and advantage to you.

We repeat . . . Save your precious dollars. Help your country by buying bonds. And if you do need new clothes come to the Julian Goldman Store — the store for every member of the family as well as the store of low prices.

And whether you pay cash or buy on credit Goldman's prices are the same . . . uniformly low . . . with never a penny charge for credit.

MORE RATIONING

From the indications, rationing will be continued soon in a number of articles. Dispatches from Washington infer that some 15 articles of food or use common to every household will be under the ration plan.

Here in Lawrence county the work of the rationing board clerical staff grows larger by the week. First it was tires and tubes, then retreads, then automobiles, then sugar, then typewriters and soon it will be bicycles.

Any time after today, consumers or dealers who failed to take out sugar ration cards may get their cards by calling at the office of the ration board in the court house.

In a few days sugar for canning may be obtained through the ration plan but the amount permitted will attract but few. Five pounds of sugar per person will be allowed and one pound of this can be purchased by ration within a short time. Just what a family will can with one pound of sugar per person is not apparent but that's the allowance.

The present quarters of the clerical staff of the rationing board are crowded but shortly they should and undoubtedly will be given more space. It has been suggested that the small building now occupied by the welfare department would suit the rationing board. The welfare offices could be moved over to the suite now occupied by District Attorney L. K. Donaldson and County Detectives Charles D. Ross. These officials in turn could take the offices now occupied by the two judges who will soon move into their new offices in the court house addition.

Garden Hints

After all danger of late frost, seeds of beans, corn, cucumber, melons, squash and okra can be sown. Also set out plants of tomatoes, cabbage and melons.

Manure is the best fertilizer for rhubarb, although commercial fertilizers may be used. Spread them around the plants and dig them in thoroughly.

Spray curran. bushes with arsenate of lead to kill the currant worms, but after the fruits have begun to form use only pyrethrum or rotenone, both of which are nonpoisonous to humans.

The compost heap costs nothing but some extra labor, yet it is a fine way to supply the garden soil with humus.

When planting new rhubarb roots, place the buds just under the ground. Keep any flower stalks pulled as the plants become weakened by making blossoms.

Compost can be used on the garden just as it is dug from the heap. It will not burn or injure plants but will supply them with valuable food and at the same time improve the condition of the soil, making it more friable and better able to retain moisture.

The others win by "by-passing" fortified spots. Why can't we go over the Marshall Islands instead of taking them?

Dorothy Fisher In USO Concert

All Proceeds From Concert At Washington High On June 1 For USO

NOTED SOPRANO TO LEND TALENTS

Dorothy Fisher, one of New Castle's most talented pianists, and L. Mara Giachino, noted lyric and dramatic soprano, will present a concert in the George Washington Junior High school auditorium on Monday evening, June 1, sponsored by the teachers of New Castle.

The New Castle teachers announce that all proceeds will be donated to the USO fund to help our boys in uniform.

The artists are well known in American musical circles and they will give a program replete with classical favorites.

Miss Fisher, a native of New Castle, has had a great deal of experience in the musical world. She has studied under masters like Rudolph Ganz, Isidore Phillipe, Arthur Loesser, and Gordon Stanley while at the Institute of Musical Art and the Juilliard Graduate School of Music. Miss Fisher was once one of Mrs. Mary Fankhouser's prize pupils and she is a graduate of New Castle High school.

Miss Giachino began her vocal studies at the age of 10 in Turin, Italy. Two years later she came to America, where artists are allowed free expression. She is glad of an opportunity to sing for the USO and do her bit in preventing the artistic blackout from spreading all over the world. Miss Giachino also studied at Juilliard and has given many recitals in and about the metropolitan area.

All seats will be reserved and the prices are $1.00 and 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. They may be obtained at any school, Fleming's Music store, Donati's Music store or the Work-Basket.

Here is an opportunity to hear a professional concert with a New Castle artist in a leading role and to help the USO in the bargain.

RED CROSS HAS BIRTHDAY TODAY

Sixty-First Anniversary Is Being Observed By International Organization

Chairman Ralph F. Davis, of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, announced the fact that today commemorates the 61st anniversary of the founding of the Red Cross. Sixty-one years ago, an old ideal was given birth to by citizens of America, who decreed that forevermore, Mercy shall follow in the wake of war, and that compassion shall never be denied man, Mr. Davis stated.

Although no formal observance is planned locally or in other parts of the world, observance will not be lacking. It will be observed, Mr. Davis pointed out, as only a great ideal can be observed—by deeds.

Somewhere in the South Pacific, a Red Cross nurse will soothe the feverish brow of a gallant American soldier; somewhere on the broad seas, a Red Cross worker accompanying convoyed troops, will join in entertaining these men; somewhere a destitute family left homeless by the fury of sudden disaster will be comforted by a Red Cross representative; in an army camp, some soldier seeking word from a stricken family back home will be aided by the Red Cross; or perhaps somewhere a life will be saved by blood plasma, donated by Americans through the Red Cross.

"Not only will this happen today, on the anniversary of the Red Cross, but it will happen tomorrow and throughout the years, "Mr. Davis concluded," but today it has special significance on the 61st birthday of the Red Cross.

Third Robbery Attempt Is Made At Local School

Detectives today were trying to discover the identity of a person or persons who entered the administration building, school district, at East and North streets last night. Nothing was reported missing. It was the third time the building was entered during the past year or more.

A screw driver was used to pry open a window. The knob on a vault was pried off, it was reported.

The first time the building was actually robbed. However, on the latter two trips nothing was stolen.

What the thieves are searching for has detectives puzzled.

PRODUCTION NEWS

and ELECTRICITY is on a 24-hour day, 7-day week schedule, pouring power and more power into war production—into thundering cranes, monster milling machines, titanic electric furnaces.

Bullets and bombs—tanks and trucks—airplanes and ships file off assembly lines with speed and precision of which no other country can boast. That's because the men and women on the American Home Front, too, are fighting in this war of freedom.

The Pennsylvania Power Company has kept pace steadily in accelerated war production. . . . Over 30 of our boys have gone into the Service—more expected to go. The rest are pitching in to do double duty to meet the demands for electric power that keeps production rolling!

FIFTH BARN BURNS

The fifth fire in the vicinity in the past few weeks destroyed the barn on what is known as the Sand Bank property, south west of Simpson pumping station, last week. Neighbors had used the barn for machine storage, all of which was destroyed and which was only partially covered by insurance.

The frequency of these fires is becoming a matter of deep concern to residents of the neighborhood, for the fact that all but one of the barns burned have been on unoccupied farms seems to indicate incendiarism.

To Release Flow of LIVER BILE

Do This Every Morning For 30 Days

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts tonight. Start right in tomorrow morning and take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) half an hour before breakfast or in your morning cup of tea or coffee and keep this up for 30 days. Kruschen taken this way helps relieve such symptoms as sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion when due to insufficient flow of bile from the gall-bladder. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U.S.A., at Eckerd's of New Castle or any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back.

CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS Note: For an occasional cathartic or purgative, to relieve common constipation, we believe there is nothing better than quick-acting Kruschen in larger doses—try it according to directions on the bottle.

Safety Prize Goes To Wampum Plant

Portland Plant's Accident Free Year In '41 Wins National Recognition

It was announced that the Medusa Portland Cement plant in Wampum has again received nation-wide recognition and the Portland Cement Association Safety Trophy for outstanding accident-prevention work. In a meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York, cement officials praised the splendid cooperation and individual care by employes which made possible operation for the year, 1941, without a single disabling injury.

The record was all the more commendable because increased production had placed greater loads on men and equipment, they added. The accident-free year was evidence of the excellent training given new employes and alertness to the importance of safety on the part of the entire Wampum personnel.

The Wampum plant has proved that "Old Man Accident," like the Axis, can be beaten when every man does his part.

The safety trophy, given yearly by the Portland Cement association for 18 years, goes to mills which operate a full calendar year without an accident. The Wampum plant has won four times.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

Telegrams were sent to Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia, and the five bishops in the five dioceses, and a cablegram to His Holiness Pope Pius, XII, for their blessing and sent a message of loyalty and support from the K. of C.

Officers were elected, and also delegates to the supreme council. Edward J. Kelly was reelected state deputy.

Seeks To Boost Rubber Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones today urged that the synthetic rubber program be boosted from 800,000 to 1,000,000 tons annually and disclosed that the War Production Board has advised that greater use of surplus grain can be made under such a program.

Jones was called before a special Senate agricultural sub-committee headed by Sen. Gillette (D) Iowa, to explain why the synthetic rubber program is largely based on oil instead of farm products.

Cardinals End Dodger Streak

Mort Cooper's Two-Hitter Slaps First Whitewash On N. L. Leaders, 1-0

PASS GIVES BRAVES TRIUMPH OVER BUCS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—Brooklyn was strutting along six games in the lead of the National league race today, but the Durochermen at the same time were haunted by what happened to them yesterday at the hands of the Cooper brothers of St. Louis. Mort hurled a two-hitter down the exasperated throats of the leader, while Walker slashed a triple in the fifth inning and scored on Creepy Crespi's long fly to Dixie Walker in centerfield to give the Redbirds a 1 to 0 victory over the Brooks.

The triumph was the fourth in a row by the Cards and the first whitewash of the season suffered by the Dodgers. Whitlow Wyatt hurled four-hit ball, but the only backing he received from his mates was Ducky Medwick's single in the second inning and a bingle by Billy Herman in the ninth. Not a single Dodger reached second all afternoon.

Boston clung to a slim second place margin by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 3, in 10 frames. Paul Waner was walked by Ken Heintzelman with the bases jammed in the extra stanza to give the Stenglemen the winning nod. The Braves tallied their three runs off Fruett Sewell on homers by Nanny Fernandez and Sebi Sisti.

Cubs Sock Giants, 6-3

A home run by Pitcher Claude Passeau with one on in the sixth gave the Chicago Cubs inspiration enough to beat the New York Giants, 6 to 3. Bob Carpenter had not allowed a Cub run until the hurler connected in the sixth inning. Manager Mel Ott bashed a two-run homer for the Giants in the opening inning.

Rookie Catcher Ray Lamanno had himself a glorious day with a base-jammed home run in the third inning off Ike Pearson, a single, a triple and a walk for a perfect day at bat to give the Cincinnati Reds a 10 to 3 triumph over the lowly Philadelphia Phils. Ray Starr, 35-year-old rookie went the full distance for the Reds and permitted only six hits in scoring his fourth victory against one defeat.

In the American league, Joe Gordon set the hitting pace with two home runs to enable the New York Yankees to beat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 1, and cling to first place by five decimal points. The win was Marius Russo's second against one loss. Bill Dietrich was the losing pitcher and gave up eight hits in as many innings.

Louis Blair, rookie third baseman, smacked a triple in the ninth to break a deadlock and give the Philadelphia Athletics a 5 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers scored two runs off Jack Knott in the first inning and another one in the second when they chased Knott to the showers. The A's scored first in the third when Blair came home on Billy Hitchcock's error. Al Benton faltered in the sixth and the Athletics tied the score on two singles and a walk.

The Boston-Cleveland game was postponed because of weather. In a night game, the St. Louis Browns defeated the Washington Senators, 10 to 1. Roy Cullenbine hit a home run with two on in the third.

MORAN HOPES TO DEFEAT GADSON

"Rough House John" (Madison) Erstwhile Cordy Foe To Fight

Frankie Moran, local southpaw lightweight, has never seen Harold Gadson of Clairton fight but he opines, "I'll do alright if I can nail him on the chin." They box Monday night in The Arena in an amateur battle.

Gadson will be making his debut here and, of course, it would make him feel quite chipper were he able to lay Moran for a count of 10, something that hasn't been seen.

Moran combines fighting and working. Frankie is the support of seven persons and he believes that after he has served his apprenticeship as an amateur he may turn pro.

No doubt he would do equally as well as have many of the boys who fought in The Arena. Moran has an edge on most fighters. He can knock out anybody he can hit with either hand. Most boxers can hit with only one hand.

Meanwhile, the Rapier Kid, Russell Baxter, is sharpening his glove-spears for Billy Grukbacker, an awkwardly clever hard-socking middleweight in Youngstown. This ought to be a lulu of a battle.

George Magsum of McKeesport is favored to beat Billy Reale in their heavyweight fight. "They can favor him before the bell and I'll do my best to unfavor him after the bell," Reale declared last night.

Baby Face Leasure vs. Eddie Starveski, Johnny Madison alias "Rough-House John" vs. Stewart Cameron, Tony Aiello, Youngstown college boy, vs. Jack McFadden, and Eddie Kennedy vs. Joey Ruffalo are other bouts docketed.

Men Still Needed To Help Dismantle Fairground Building

That old hard hearted weatherman prevented county sportsmen from dismantling one of the large buildings at the New Castle fairgrounds yesterday.

H. N. Drio, secretary of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, today announced that the work will be continued tonight.

The work is progressing favorably but in view of the fact that the structure is large, the association needs at least 25 men to lend a helping hand.

Men interested in helping are asked to report to the grounds after 4 o'clock, equipped with a wrecking bar and hammer.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Mushrooms, yum, yum! Yes sir, folks, His Honor Charlie Mayne likes 'em but he never plucks one. Instead he cuts 'em down then peers at the stem and, if he sees a small hole, he takes his pen-knife, slices off the stem and lo, gone is Mr Worm. Not so many years ago he essayed a hike into the rural district and returned with a puff ball, in fact two of 'em. However, one of the puff balls weighed 4½ pounds. Here's the way he prepares 'em. He cuts them in four parts, removes the skin, slices them and after he puts a piece of butter the size of one's fist into a skillet, frys over a slow fire for about 15 minutes. The butter and frying gives 'em a yellow color and according to boys who like puff-balls, they're not hard to take.

One of the worries of George Harper is where he will fish this year. Last year we watched him yanking in some nice bass and "northerns." However, he isn't the only one who will be required to forego a jaunt into the wilds of Canada. No doube some of the Pennsylvania camp boys and others who annually journey north will be similarly affected.

Report that Harold Davis, California U. had ran the century in 9.4 equalling the record of Frank Wykoff of Southern California brought Claude Patton into the picture. Years ago Claude was a streak as a pro 100-yard man. He was entered in 19 races here and won the money in 16 of 'em which isn't a bad record. Some of these days Claude intends to provide some past history on local racing.

If Pete Carey is here Monday he will be on the pugilistic deck in The Arena. According to reports Pete is angling to get in Uncle Sam's marines, hence his appearance depends upon that. . . . And by the way Harry "Junie" Flinner, Jr., local ball catcher, has enlisted in the Marines and will be departing for training camp Monday.

Veterans boxing association will conduct a clinic June 7 in Pittsburgh . . . Lou Nova and Lee Savold are docketed for a Washington ring tonight. It is a navy relief show. . . . Johnny Coleman, coach at East Pittsburgh High school has passed a test for a role as physical instructor in the navy . . . Church loop golfers tee off tonight at Castle Hills . . . Max Hannum, basketball varsity coach at Carnegie Tech, has been appointed manager of the Plaid's publicity bureau.

College baseball yesterday: Temple 3, Penn State 2; Army 6, Yale 4; Toledo 3 Detroit 0, and Western Michigan 3, Michigan State 1. . . . Ben Grady, Pitt swimming coach, has been commissioned a lieutenant in the navy . . . Reports are current that Pete Carey, local amateur fighter, has joined the U. S. Marines. If he passes the test he will depart May 25 for training camp and will be unable to box Monday night in The Arena. Good luck, Pete. . . . Penn High won the W.P.I.A.L. title by beating Greensburg 12 to 3, at Pittsburgh.

Bowling:—In Western Pennsylvania, Miss Millie Dewberry is listed among the first top five women duckpin demolishers. Bob Mackey, who has watched the greatest artists of the alleys in action, rates the localite with the greatest women rollers in the country. . . .

Football:—Lawrence county's two Class AA teams—New Castle and Ellwood City—won't have too much transportation headaches come the next pigskin campaign. The "Canes" play on foreign soil only three times. Ellwood City plays all but three of its tiffs before the home crowd. . . .

Basketball:—Wilbur Farrell, who starred on St. Mary's basketball team last season, leaves for the United States Marine training base in Parris Island, next Monday. He and Pete Carey, the popular amateur beak buster, will be honored at a farewell party in the Carey home, North Mercer street, Friday night. . . .

Local baseball:—Fred Shaffer, twirling for Louisville of the American Association, is charged with one defeat. The Highland Heights athlete has appeared in several relief roles. . . . Paul Morrison, West Side Tiger generalissimo, leaves for his final army exam within the next few weeks. . . .

Major league dust:—Thus far, the Braves have had a royal holiday at the expense of the poor Phils. The Beantowners have racked up a half dozen wins at the expense of the Lobert-piloted team. Our Bucs are even-stephen with the cellar dwellers, 3 and 3. . . .

Detroit fans almost break their necks recovering foul balls. The club pays out two 25 cent war stamps for every ball returned. . . . Supposed you've noticed that Ernie Bonham, the Yankee pitcher, has given up only one run in three games. He, by the way, dumped the Tigers after they had won nine straight at home. . . .

Cleveland has beaten the St. Louis Browns five in a row thus far. . . . And the Athletics have captured five of their 13 wins at the expense of Washington. . . . Koslo's correct back handle is Koslowski. The Giant rookie left-handed pitcher hails from Hopkinsville, Ky. . . .

Bob and Irish Meusel, ex-big league stars, are guards on a Los Angeles government project. . . . Clark Griffith, Washington magnate, predicts that 650,000 fans will flock to the Nats' park this season. He, no doubt, has a lot of confidence in the drawing power of the opposition.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 21.—The next-to-the-last big fling for golf is all set to be run off at the Seaview Country club, near Atlantic City, beginning Monday. After this one for the national professional title, they will gather at Chicago in June for the Hale America open and that probably will end it for the duration insofar as the big headline events are concerned.

The nation's outstanding professionals, 116 strong, gathered from 25 states, will tee off in the Atlantic City feature for two days of qualifying medal play after which will begin the usual pursuit of Byron Nelson, of the sharpshooting Texas Nelsons.

He's not the defending champion. That honor is held by Corp. Victor Ghezzi, who will be on furlough for the week trying to keep the title which he barely won in the final against Nelson at Denver last year. You may remember that Ghezzi took that one at the 38th hole of the final round, when Nelson missed a seven-footer on a slope.

Nelson has been in all of the last three P. G. A. finals and won one of them to equal Hagen's record of three straight in the event. That is three straight going all the way to the final.

Nelson also is the only man except Gene Sarazen to win the U. S. open the Masters and the Pro Crowns. He won the Masters this past spring.

Nelson Hot Choice

Because he undoubtedly is among the two or three top match play golfers of all time, Nelson will be the hot choice at Atlantic City. Ghezzi won't be feared much because his play must be considered more or less as a gesture. He hasn't had the time to get in practice and there is no need saying that competing against that field without being sharp isn't likely to get you anywhere.

That Nelson is sharp. He has been in the money in 31 straight tournaments, was hitting the ball about as good as any man ever has at Augusta in the Masters and is loaded up for this one with that added incentive of trying to get another title for the duration. He wants to put this one in moth balls along with that Masters' crown.

Ben Hogan might give him some trouble along the way. The latter is ranked by the veterans among the great shot-makers of all time, but he isn't the match player that Nelson is, and it was Hogan that Nelson beat in the Masters' finals. Moreover, Hogan has never advanced farther than the quarter-finals in the P. G. A. merry-go-round.

Nelson will never be a figure in golf such as Hagen is. He won't be remembered with Sarazen or Jones or even one or two more. Yet, none of them had anything that he lacks except some sparkle of color.

This Nelson is a methodical, strictly orthodox sort of a fellow without any noticeable touch to attract the galleries to him. Golf is his business and that is the way he plays it, with an apparent coolness that hides his wrought up feelings and without one single thing that anybody can point out as him different—except perhaps his superb skill. But a lot of them can hit a golf ball and hit it where they aim.

Give Nelson some of Hagen's nonsense and swashbuckling and they would be naming public squares after him and building statues of him swinging a golf club.

Pastor 3-1 Favorite In Mauriello Joust

Ten Round Setto Booked For Madison Square Garden Friday Evening

By JACK MAHON
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 21.—James J. Johnston, a fight manager whom you have heard, if you haven't actually met, in the past 50 years, added another deathless sentence to boxing history today when he said: "If my Bob Pastor can't lick Tami Mauriello he doesn't belong in the ring with Joe Louis."

We will ignore some of the obvious insulting comebacks this statement to the world elicited from the veteran wails along Jacobs beach and report that the 'money men" of the village seem to agree heartily with Mr. Johnston and have Bicycling Bob a 3 to 1 and upward favorite over the young Italian boy from the Bronx, for their bout at the Garden tomorrow night.

The Mauriello camp, which includes the noisiest group of New York rooters ever assembled, is sure to go for that 3 to 1 price and will be depended on to tear the Garden apart if the fight is close and the decision goes against their idol.

Licked By Lesnevich

Mauriello is a hungry fighter. He was licked twice by Gus Lesnevich, whom Pastor pasted all over the same ring, and needs a good win to get back in the good graces of the fans. A victory over Pastor would not only accomplish that purpose but would vault the kid into a return match with Mr. Pastor and into an unexpected high position on the heavyweight ladder.

Tami and his manager, Jimmy (Lefty) Remini are going to bet a good chunk of currency on their hopes of springing an upset and are anxiously awaiting latest reports from the betting marts before sending their dough "in."

Mauriello has fought six heavyweights and licked them all since his disastrous jousts with Lesnevich in the light-heavyweight ranks. None of them, however, could carry Pastor's water pail into the ring.

That's why Bob is such a favorite for their ten-round tussle tomorrow evening.

Slovaks-Croton Battle Tonight

City League Antagonists Prepared To Carry On First Half Struggle

City baseball league competitors carry on their interesting struggle for first half honors tonight.

With the weatherman showing signs of relenting, local diamond fans are preparing for the exodus to the different battlefields where the four contests will be unfurled.

From a standpoint of importance, the key battle is booked for Cedar street grounds where the Slovaks and Croton A.C. swing bats. The Crontonites are nestled in first place with three victories against a lone setback. The Slovaks, after dripping their first two games, struck back with vengance, capturing their last three settos.

A Slovak victory will kayo Croton from the top post and skyrocket the Slovaks into the coveted chamber.

While the rivals iron out their differences, the Lawrence Indies and Elders tiff on Marshall field, the strong West Side Tigers jaunt to Bessemer and the Moose invades West Pittsburg's den.

All games start at 6 o'clock.

Change Suggested To Ease Transportation Problem In Big League Cities

By BILL ZIMMERMAN
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Declaring that transportation of baseball fans is causing a "serious problem" in some cities, Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman today asked that a change be considered in the starting time of major league ball games.

Eastman suggested to Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, that managements of the various clubs meet with transit company officials in their home townss to study the possibility of relieving overcrowded transportation facilities "by some moderate change" in game time.

The purpose of beginning games at an earlier or later hour would be to have them end during period when buses, street cars and traffic arteries could better handle the extra crowds, Eastman said. Most big league games now start at 3:15 p. m. and end between five and six at the height of the evening traffic rush.

In a letter to Landis, Eastman said:

Letter To Landis

"You have undoubtedly read of the campaign which the Office of Defense Transportation is making to stagger hours as a means for obtaining the greatest possible use of transit vehicles during the war emergency."

"Many communities have already adopted a program for staggering working hours, but in several cities I have learned that the transportation of baseball fans from the ball parks to their homes is presenting a serious problem. In these cities ball games end just about the same time that the transit company is handling its peak rush hour traffic.

"May I suggest that you ask the managements of the various ball clubs to sit down with the managers of the transit companies in their home cities for the purpose of studying the possibility of relieving this condition by some moderate change in the starting time of the games.

"So many changes have recently been made in working hours that an earlier or later starting time for ball games might actually be more acceptable to the baseball fans than the starting times which have proven most convenient under peacetime conditions, especially if transit conditions are bettered thereby."

Nova-Savold Swap Punches In Relief Fund Scrap Tonight

Ex-Yogi Man Lou Installed As Favorite; 10-Round Go In Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—With a shot at Heavyweight King Joe Louis hanging in the balance, Lou Nova, the former Yogi man, today was installed at 2 to 1 odds to whip Lee Savold of Des Moines in their scheduled 10-round fight for the Navy Relief society tonight at Griffith stadium.

Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting club, who is promoting tonight's boxing show, has announced that the winner of the Nova-Savold bout will meet Melio Bettina for the right to face Louis.

It is expected that Nova will enter the ring weighing about 202 and Savold 192.

The semi-final bout on the Navy Relief card brings together Steve Mamakos and George Abrams, both Washington fighters, who will be battling for a chance to meet Middleweight Champion Tony Zale in Chicago next month or in July.

A crowd of 15,000 and a $40,000 gate is expected tonight.

Christo Defeats Colan With Ease

Greek Mitt Slinger On Trail To His Once-Held Light Heavy Toga

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 21.—Anton Christoforidis of Cleveland definitely was on the trail of his once-held light heavyweight championship today following his smashing 10-round defeat of the New Yorker, Johnny Colan, last night at the Chicago stadium.

Colan, although established a 2-to-1 favorite to conquer the Cleveland Greek, took only one round, fought like a novice during the closing rounds of the battle and was all but out on his feet at the finish.

Colan caught Christoforidis with a staggering left hook to the head early in the second round, but that was his best effort of the evening. The Cleveland fighter held on briefly, then wound up the round with a flurry of rights and lefts. From then on it was mostly the ex-champ.

Colan was down for a one-count in the fifth and at one stage of the bout was so confused he clipped Referee Johnny Behr with a punch on the jaw.

Last night's fight drew 8,708 customers who paid $15,171 at the gate.

Gigantic Links Jamboree Booked For Atlantic City Course; 116 Entered

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 21.—The twosome of Ted Smith, Bernardsville, N. J., and Clarence Ehresman, Elkins Park, Pa., teeing off at 9:30 a. m., will lead the nation's top professionals over Atlantic City's Seaview Country club course next Monday in the first qualifying round of the 25th annual P. G. A. golf tourney.

This was disclosed when pairings and starting time of the annual classic were released today by P. G. A. officials in Chicago.

A field of 116 golfers will make the qualifying test Monday and Tuesday for 32 places in the championship flight match play bracket. Match play at 36 holes will begin Wednesday and will continue thru the week with the title decided on Sunday.

Corp. Victor Ghezzi, the defending champion now with the U. S. army signal corps at Fort Monmouth, N. J., is exempted from qualifying but is scheduled to compete in the trials for the qualifying medal. The champion is slated to get off at 1:41 p. m. Monday in the company of Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., national open titleholder, and Corp. Ed (Porky) Oliver of Fort Dix, N. J.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Attention all Ex-Navy men . . . you are requested to register at the Greater New Castle Association . . . this information is to be used by a committee in charge of a patriotic celebration. So, friends your cooperation will be greatly appreciated. All Ex-Navy men, whenever they served for the United States. You ask if you should call in person . . . not necessarily, send in a card or phone 879 and give the information. Thanks boys.

Have you given to the U. S. O? If not, then you should do something about this contribution. The money raised in these campaigns is really used for the boys in camps . . . maybe he's a friend of yours . . . if every one gave something the bruden on all would be very light . . . so light that when the war is over you will have forgotten just how much you did give. So make a contribution today.

* * *

The dew around these parts is rather heavy the past few days . . . looks like California weather. They must be having very unusual weather out there this season . . . every time you hear a big shot from the Movie City talk he makes a crack about the heavy dew. It seems that it was just yesterday that if any one mentioned (within ear-shot of a stranger) that it was wet in the Golden State the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles would cut them down with stern words. Times change.

* * *

Citizens of this country complain about the way politicians do things in this country . . . After yesterday, the people have no one to blame but themselves. Just think of all the people who were too lazy to get out and vote . . . too tired to take an interest but yet they will sit around and complain about this and that and if they had a chance what they would do. Yea, what they would do would be something. If we want to keep this nation on the go we must all keep our eyes open and stop thinking that Johnny will do the jobs that must be done. Some day John will be an odd looking chap unless we all wake up.

The classified ad page will help you . . . just give it a try. 40 cents for twenty words and over 20,000 copies of that ad will be printed and sent to good people in this and surrounding territory.

SALLY'S SALLIES

THE OLD HOME TOWN — By STANLEY

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 21.—The U. S. office of price administration may clamp down soon on Pennsylvania motorists who have misrepresented the amount of gasoline they need. . . . An O. P. A. official intimated that the government may prosecute several violators and make them serve as examples to others . . . Indications are that the O. P. A. expects the public to check on violators of gasoline rationing. . . . The opinion prevailed that one or two stiff penalties levied against violators would have a wholesome influence on others.

Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson's in-laws live in Harrisburg . . . His mother-in-law recently attended a card party at which Henderson was severely upbraided by one of the women present . . . Apparently not knowing that Hendersons' kin was present, the woman figuratively ripped the O. P. A. chief down and back . . . "I'll be glad to tell him your complaints the next time I see him," interjected Henderson's mother-in-law . . . "Why," asked the woman, "do you know him?" . . . "He's my son-in-law," was the reply . . . Henderson worked in the state department at Harrisburg during the Pinchot administration.

There has been strikingly little interest shown in the primary election on Capitol Hill . . . The war has blanked out what would have been considered in normal years a red-hot election campaign, at least on the Republican side . . . Most of the state employes have blossomed out with Martin buttons, including the attaches of the governor's office. . . . Outside of that interest in the election is low.

Further evidence that the federal government will take over administration of the state rationing system is seen in the off-the-record disclosure by an O.P.A. official to a county rationing board that the program would soon be federalized. . . . It is expected that Henderson's office will appoint a paid federal administrator for Pennsylvania, with perhaps paid personnel also in the local boards.

Governor James expressed himself as being in a quandary over what to do, now that gasoline rationing is in effect. . . . He pointed out that he has various trips to make about the state and was puzzled whether to go by train or use a state car when the business was official. . . Under rationing regulations, state officials are entitled to "X" cards. . . . One of the governor's cabinet officials asked for a "B-3" card. . . "If you want a B-3' card you'll have to get a letter from your department head," said the registrar. . . . "What good will that do?" retorted the cabinet official. "I'll have to write the letter myself" . . . So they gave him a "B-1" card.

Pennsylvania's "Dream Highway" may turn into a headache because of the war and its restrictions on civilian traffic . . . The Pennsylvania turnpike commission, which operates the 160-mile express road from Middlesex to Irwin, asked Leon Henderson, U. S. price administrator for permission to keep an unlimited supply of gasoline on hand for turnpike motorists. . . It was unable to obtain it . . . As a result there are fears that civilian traffic may be cut to such an extent that the turnpike will suffer serious financial reverses. Numerous passenger cars became stranded because of lack of gasoline shortly after rationing went into effect.

Unless truck traffic is substantially increased because of defense work, sufficient to take up the slack in passenger car travel, the turnpike may find itself unable to meet its amortization costs . . . Being a toll highway it was expected to pay its own way, but that was in the days before travel restrictions . . . As a result, either the state or federal governments may have to guarantee the amortization costs . . . The road was federally financed, but is operated by a state-appointed commission.

Shortly before election Gov. Arthur H. James issued a memorandum to all state departments notifying them that under law employes whose legal residence is at least 100 miles from the state capitol are entitled to take the Monday preceding election off so they can return home to vote . . . Many state employes, however, were away from the capitol weeks before election day, accompanying various candidates on their tours of the state. . . . Still others took Monday off but neglected to go home and vote.

One newspaperman at the capitol who eats out has solved his sugar problem . . . As soon as he obtained his rationing card he bought himself a sugar bowl . . . Taking it to the restaurant he frequents, he placed the bowl before the head waiter, filled it with some of his rationed sugar, and announced: "Here's my sugar . . . Put my name on the bowl and let me have it whenever I come in to eat."

The state of Florida exempts from taxation homes up to a value of $5,000.

Thursday: The Last Day With The Disciples

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The last supper.

"This do in remembrance of Me."—Luke 22:19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 24 is Luke 22:7-38, the Golden Text being Luke 22:19, "This do in remembrance of Me".)

The incidents in last week's lesson took place on Tuesday before Christ's death. We do not know what He did on the next day, Wednesday. There is no record. He may, and probably did, retire to some quiet spot to commune with His Father and prepare Himself for the dreadful time that was coming.

Thursday, however, was the day of the Passover, and He was with His apostles. This was the commemoration of the night when the first-born of the Egyptians were slain by an angel of the Lord, while the children of the Israelites were spared because of a blood mark on each door. It was called the day of unleavened bread, and the ceremonies attending it were, and still are, performed with much solemnity.

Jesus sent Peter and Paul, saying, "Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat." When they asked where they would prepare it, He told them they would see a man bearing a pitcher of water on his head. They were to follow him, and when he turned into a house, they were to ask the owner of the house to show them his upper furnished room. There they would eat their passover.

No one knows just where this place was, and some think He chose it so that His enemies (including Judas, whom He knew had sold himself to the evil one and was to betray Him) would not know where the Lord and the 12 would be. The two men did as He said and so the place for the last supper the 12 were to share with their Lord before His death was set. Usually the women of the household drew all the water, but in this particular feast the man of the house was supposed to draw the water with which to mix the unleavened bread.

The Last Supper Is Eaten

When the hour came Jesus sat down and the 12 apostles with Him. "And He said unto them, With desire have I desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God." He then took the cup of wine, gave thanks, and said: "Take this, and divide it among yourselves: For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come."

And He took bread and gave thanks for that also and brake it and gave to them, saying, "This is My body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of Me."

This moment in the life of Jesus on earth is what we think of when we take the sacrament, "in remembrance" of Him in His last day on earth with His chosen friends.

It seems queer to us that these close friends and followers of His did not realize what was so soon to befall their beloved Master. Not even when Jesus said, "But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth Me is with Me on the table" did they sense the tragedy of the occasion. True, they began to say to themselves, who could it be, and each to question himself as to whether it could possibly be he who would do so dastardly a deed. But the next moment they began to quarrel among themselves as to whom should be thought the greatest among them. Jesus told them that the greatest among them should be the one to serve, as He served. They, however, were appointed to eat and drink at His table in His kingdom and to sit on thrones judging the 12 tribes of Israel.

The Lord than turned to Peter and told him that Satan would tempt him, but that He, Jesus, had prayed for him and while he would give way to temptation, he would be converted and would thereafter strengthen his brethren.

Peter protested that he would be ready to go to prison with his Master, and even to death. Can you imagine the sad, sweet smile with which Jesus answered him, saying, "Peter, the cock shall not crow this day before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest Me."

From this upper room, after this serious but pleasant time, none of the 12 except Judas, possibly, sensing the terrible events to follow, Jesus left to go to Gethsemane and to His death. It was Thursday, April 6, A. D. 30.
